By GESFORD FINE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Lima, Peru, Nov. 13.—Military law was invoked in Lima and in the Andes copper mining region today to halt rioting Indian miners who had turned upon foreigners, and all workers' organizations were dissolved to prevent a 24-hour general strike which its leaders said would paralyze the nation.

Two Americans and one Austrian were killed by the Indians in the mining camp of Malpasco, near Cerro De Pasco, more than 15,000 feet high in the Andes. Three Americans and several other foreigners were wounded.

Twelve of the rioters were killed and some 25 wounded. The American casualties were:

Dead:

John William Chapman, Chicago.

E. L. Tripari, American, address unknown.

Seriously injured:

Morguer, American, address unknown.

Whitley, American, address unknown.

Albert Diamanti, American, address unknown.

Troops were ready to meet any emergency in Lima and Callad. Picked forces were sent to protect foreigners in the mining area and to escort trains bringing refugees from the 350 American and British and 200 other foreigners in the Cerro De Pasco mining region.

A state of siege was declared in the departments of Lima and Junin, the latter including the troubled mining area.

A hostile atmosphere has prevailed in the mining region, particularly at the Cerro De Pasco mines, for several weeks because of labor troubles.

After yesterday's outbreak United States Minister Fred M. Dearing visited the foreign minister here and it is understood to have made a formal request for protection of Americans.

Harold J. Kingsmill, American general manager of the Cerro De Pasco mines, told the United Press that outside influence of a communistic nature were responsible for the disorders.

Groups of workers sang the "Internationale" and made speeches against foreigners when the alleged leaders of the disturbance left Lima.

Lima, Peru, Nov. 13.—A general strike in connection with rioting and attacks on foreigners at the Cerro De Pasco mines became partly effective at 7 A. M. today.

Street cars and auto buses halted in the suburbs of Lima and outlying regions were crowded with thousands of workers who sought transportation. Except for a few taxicabs the streets were almost without traffic.

Chosica, Peru, Nov. 13.—Refugees from the Cerro De Pasco mine region, where rebellious Indians attacked foreigners and battled with troops—killing two Americans—arrived today. They reported other foreigners and families of officials trying desperately to reach safety over partly disorganized railway lines.

A group of 210 foreigners, including four persons who were wounded in the fighting, were on the first train from the disturbed region. The train continued toward Lima but transportation was greatly hindered by the general strike declared this morning.

Washington, Nov. 13.—A party of 15 Americans, including several women, are in danger of mob violence at the mines of Canette, Peru, the state department was advised today.

At the request of the American embassy in Lima, 80 Peruvian soldiers have been sent to protect foreigners.

Seven business men were indicted by the grand jury which investigated the bribe charges. Five pleaded guilty and paid fines.

A jury in the case was expected to be completed today after seven jurors were selected at the first session of court late yesterday.

Devil's Lake reported just 32 degrees, while Canadian temperatures were practically all below freezing. Calgary and Edmonton were lowest with 10 degrees.

DYNAMITED STUMP
CRASHES IN SCHOOL,
INJURES 6 CHILDREN

Ironton, O., Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—Six children were injured, one probably fatally, today, when a tree stump dynamited from the earth by a road construction gang, crashed through the roof of a country school at Kelly's Bridge, near here.

The stump, weighing 125 pounds, crashed into a room where 23 pupils were seated. Ceiling timbers fell under the impact and one wall buckled, showering the children with wood and brick.

Ironton, O., Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—James Dean, 11, was fatally injured and five other children were cut and bruised today when a tree stump dynamited from the ground by a road construction gang, hurtled 125 yards through the air and crashed through the roof of a little grammar school near Kelly's Bridge. IGNORED LONGERCHURCH TO TAKE COGNIZANCE,
SAYS ARCHBISHOP OF
CANTERBURYGREAT AND GROWING CHANGE
IN CUSTOMS OF MARRIED
LIFE ALL OVER WORLD

London, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—The question of birth control cannot be ignored by the church, the Archbishop of Canterbury said today in addressing the lower house of the convocation of Canterbury.

In explaining the attention given social subjects by the recent Lambeth conference of bishops from all parts of the world, the archbishop said here was "a great and growing change, which is almost a revolution, in the customs of married life throughout the world."

"This change is the main factor in causing a general decline of 50 per cent in the world's birth rate," he said. "To have evaded the subject at the conference would have been the policy of the ostrich."

The conference approved a modified practice of birth control at its sessions.

CONSUMPTION OF
HOME BREWED BEER
RAPIDLY INCREASING

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—Consumption of home brewed beer in the United States has increased 18 per cent during the last year on the basis of malt syrup sales, Fred Pabst, Sr., president of the Pabst corporation, former brewers, estimated today.

Each successive month of 1930 sales of malt syrup reached a new high figure, Pabst said. In October, sales increased 34 per cent over October, 1929, he estimated.

Even larger gains have been made, he said, in sales of near beer and ginger ale. He cited one brand of ginger ale which he said had increased in sales by 564 per cent over the corresponding period of last year.

CANAL ZONE
AIRPORTS TOO SMALL
FOR TOUR FLIERS

Balboa, Canal Zone, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—Canal Zone airports are too small to enable a takeoff with sufficient fuel for 30 hours flight, Capt. Roy W. Ammel said today, and he therefore plans to start a non-stop flight to Chicago from the Anton, Panama, airfield, about 80 miles southwest of Balboa.

Capt. Ammel made the first non-stop flight from New York to Panama in his airplane Blue Flash. He hopes to start for Chicago early Saturday, flying via Florida and Atlanta.

A broad, natural plain has been developed by the army at Anton as an emergency airport. It is long enough to allow the Blue Flash to develop the speed necessary to life a heavy fuel load.

BEER MANUFACTURE
IS LARGEST CRIME

MILLION PEOPLE IN NATION
CLAIMED CONNECTED WITH
BOOTLEGGING

By CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, JR.
(Copyright, 1930, by United Press)

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Wickersham law enforcement commission has been told that the number of Americans engaged in gang enterprises has multiplied by 10 in the last four years, and that illegal beer manufacture constitutes the nation's largest individual source of crime.

The group has been told, I learned today from an authoritative commission source, that there are as many as 1,000,000 persons connected with bootlegging and the myriad "rackets" which may or may not have sprung therefrom. There likewise has developed the significant opinion that drinking of the so-called "light" beverages has provided a greater problem in criminality than consumption of liquors with high alcoholic content.

My information, which I am assured comes from data of the commission, would tend to indicate that crime experts ascribe to the sale and effects of non-ripened, quickly-fermenting wines and beers most of the current overcrowding of prisons, gang madness and the participation of extreme youths in unlawful activities.

'Mickey' Meets Death
Under Wheels of Car;
Had Wide Acquaintance

"Mickey," French Bull, best known dog in this city and known to people throughout a large rural area, is no more.

The dog, a companion of Harry O'Brien, 215½ Sixth street, salesman, on his trips to customers of the district, met his death under the wheels of an automobile that made a sharp U turn at the corner of Sixth and Maple streets late yesterday afternoon.

The French Bull was six years old. Wherever his master went there "Mickey" was sure to be.

"Mickey" people said "good morning" and "hello" to "Mickey" than to a cop, one of the dog's friends expressed.

SIX RADIATOR CAPS
STOLEN FROM CARS

Police were confronted today with something new in the way of burglaries—that of the theft of radiator caps from automobiles.

During the night radiator caps from six cars, all of different makes, were taken from vehicles parked on Laurel street between Fifth and Sixth streets.

"There is a ready market for radiator caps. We believe that the thefts were for that purpose and not the work of boys looking for mischief," Chief Thomas Templeton said.

ATTIC, ROOF FIRE
CAUSES $350 LOSS

Fire which broke out in the attic and spread to the roof at 8:53 o'clock Wednesday evening caused $350 damage to the home of Charles Orabala, 1421 Norwood street. The damage is covered by insurance.

The probable cause was defective wiring, Frank W. Fuller, fire chief and inspector reported.

FORD, 65, MUFFLED RE-PORT OF GUNALL FOUR MEMBERS OF FAMILY WERE SHOT IN THE HEAD

Uniontown, Pa., Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—R. W. Playford, 65, prominent Fayette county attorney, shot and fatally wounded his three young daughters, probably fatally wounded his wife, and then took his own life today.

Nancy Playford, 12, was dead when police arrived at the Playford home, Margaret, 9, and Pauline, 7, died within two hours.

Mrs. Nancy Stirling Playford, 45, the wife, was in such a critical condition that it was too dangerous to remove her to a hospital. Physicians expressed little hope for her recovery.

The shooting was discovered by the Playford's maid, Violet White, when she arose this morning. Detectives said they believe Playford muffed the report of the gun to prevent others being awakened by the shots.

All four members of the family were shot in the head. Police found Mrs. Playford in her bed, unconscious. Nancy was found dead in her room when police arrived.

The other two children were found unconscious in the bedroom they shared and died within two hours after the shooting.

SOMETHING NEW
SHOWN IN PARIS

Paris, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—Something new in funerals was introduced when the remains of the singer Paul Napoleon Roinard were lowered into the grave at Pere-Lachaise cemetery to the tune of his own once lusty voice.

His friends, wishing to hear him speak once more, conceived the idea of playing his records on a talking machine during the service. The weirdness of the ceremony drew an added number of uninvited but interested spectators to the burial.

HOT DEBATE ON
FAILING TO ACCEPT
DISARMAMENTM. M. LITVINOFF, SOVIET DELE-
GATE, AND LORD CECIL
LEAD DISCUSSIONCOUNT VON BERNSDORF OF GER-MANY ALSO JOINS IN THE
ARGUMENTS

By SAMUEL DASHIELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Nov. 13.—A story debate on the failure of nations to accept disarmament arose today at the sessions of the preparatory disarmament commission.

M. M. Litvinoff, vigorous Soviet delegate who has repeatedly pressed the necessity of immediate acceptance, and Lord Cecil of England led the discussion which aroused the chamber to a high pitch of excitement. Count Von Bernstorff of Germany, whose country was disarmed by the world war treaties, also engaged in the debate.

Lord Cecil described the present sessions of the commission as "a hopeless morass" from which could be heard the insistent staccato voice of the Soviet.

"What the world would like to know is why nations approve the principle of disarmament but cannot accept it," he said.

Four resolutions were presented for the third day of debate on whether the conference will adopt the principle of limitation of land armaments by reduction of budgets or by direct scrapping or by a combination of both methods.

Lord Cecil proposed a combination which would simply recognize both schools of opinion, leaving the final solution for the general disarmament conference.

Rene Massigli, the French delegate, supported the French and little tentative policy, proposing a complicated resolution which would leave final solution with a committee of experts who would be obliged to report before the expected general conference in 1931.

Italy proposed that the nations adopt both methods, letting each country disarm by its own methods and then combining the two methods in a general agreement.

Litvinoff proposed the simultaneous application of the two systems.

The speeches of delegates to Turkey, Greece, Persia, Poland, Ireland, Czechoslovakia, France and China made it clear that a majority of the commission favor budgetary limitation, while the minority, including the United States, Holland, Germany, Italy and Russia, are vigorously determined to force direct limitation.

BODY OF WOMAN
FOUND IN FIELD

Epsom, England, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—The body of a woman identified as Mrs. Gladys Nicol, 36, a naturalized American of Manhattan Beach, Calif., was found in a field near here today with two revolvers nearby.

The body was identified by a brother-in-law. Mrs. Nicol had been in England for six months, for the benefit of her health.

CHINESE PIRATES
SEIZE NORWEGIAN
STEAMER HIRUNDO

Hong Kong, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—Chinese pirates traveling as passengers on the Norwegian steamer Hirundo from Swatow to Bangkok seized the ship yesterday and took it to Mrs. Bay, where they went ashore with two Chinese pursers they held for ransom.

The pirates executed their plan in daylight. They ransacked cabins but did not molest Capt. J. A. Pedersen, his wife, or any of the Norwegian officers.

The only casualty was the chief steward, a Chinese, who was wounded in an exchange of pistol fire. The pirates forced the cook to prepare a banquet for them.

ALIVE RESCUERS WORKING
AT THE SCENE

Lyons, France, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—The fear of a new landslide in the industrial section of Lyons, where about 70 persons were killed early today, caused officials to evacuate residents over a large area.

The families living in the Antiquaille quarter, which is on the opposite side of the hill where the first slides occurred, were evacuated. The slides were said officially to have been due to infiltration of water from the flooded River Saone.

Lyons, France, Nov. 13.—Three landslides, occurring in rapid succession, engulfed houses in an area of two city blocks in a densely populated industrial section of Lyons early today. Authorities said at least 70 persons were killed.

The second and third slides buried alive rescuers who had rushed to the scene after the first crash, and prevented police and firemen from rescuing persons buried under the tons of earth.

The scene of the disaster was the industrial district of Fougere, in the old quarter of St. Jean. The slides were believed due to recent excavations.

Twelve firemen and four policemen who had rushed to the rescue after the first crash were caught by the second, which came 45 minutes later.

The third landslide occurred at 4:55 A. M., preventing rescuers from removing any more bodies, and entombing many persons still living, who were calling for aid from under the debris.

The third slide swept Fougere, killing the sick and flattening a pavilion in which many nurses were sleeping.

At 8 A. M. the chief of police at Lyons told the United Press by telephone that only two bodies had been recovered. Scores of injured were taken to the Cathedral of St. Jean, where doctors and nurses worked to save them.

Unofficial estimates of the dead reached as high as 100.

Entire families were wiped out in the first landslide, which occurred at 1:15 A. M. Houses collapsed as though they were cardboard, falling into the chasms opened in the earth.

Troops and Red Cross workers labored in the dark amid the screams and groans of the injured. A Red Cross ambulance carrying victims to the Cathedral of St. Jean was caught by the third landslide, which came unexpectedly, when the danger was believed past, and was buried under tons of rocks and earth.

At daylight, the scene of the disaster showed a yawning hole in the ground, 900 feet deep and 180 feet wide. It was filled with the wreckage of what had been five-story houses, shattered to pieces by the terrific force of the landslide.

Engineers in charge of the underground construction work which was believed to have led to the landslide had warned the officials yesterday that there was danger of a collapse due to several days of constant rain recently.

Paris, Nov. 13.—The minister of interior, after receiving advices from Lyons, said today that the death toll in the landslides there probably would not exceed seventy.

The ministry said reports of 100 dead were believed to be exaggerated.

Premier Andre Tardieu, ignoring his long-standing political enmity with Mayor Edouard Herriot of Lyons, sent his personal condolences.

alleged to have been paid to influence the purchase of hose by the city coun-

Seven business men were indicted
by the grand jury which investigated the bribe charges. Five pleaded guilty and paid fines.
A jury in the case was expected to

D., and Williston, N. D., both turned grees.

40 degrees last night; Duluth, 36;
Moorhead, 38; Pierre, 36; LaCrosse,
Wis., 36, and Madison, Wis., 46.

Snow was reported at Williston, Miles City, Billings and in Yellowstone Park.

DYNAMITED STUMP
CRASHES IN SCHOOL,
INJURES 6 CHILDREN

Ironton, O., Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—Six children were injured, one probably fatally, today, when a tree stump dynamited from the earth
by a road construction gang, crashed through the roof of a country school at Kelly's Bridge, near here.

The stump, weighing 125 pounds, crashed into a room where 23 pupils were seated. Ceiling timbers fell under the impact and one wall buckled, showering the children with wood and brick.

Ironton, O., Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—James Dean, 11, was fatally injured and five other children were cut and bruised today when a tree stump dynamited from the ground by a road construction gang, hurtled 125 yards through the air and crashed through the roof of a little grammar school near Kelley's Bridge. The Dean boy died this afternoon. The other pupils will recover.

CANNOT BE IGNORED LONGERCHURCH TO TAKE COGNIZANCE, SAYS ARCHBISHOP OF
IN CUSTOMS OF MARRIED
LIFE ALL OVER WORLD

London, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—The question of birth control cannot be ignored by the church, the Archbishop of Canterbury said today in addressing the lower house of the convocation of Canterbury.

In explaining the attention given social subjects by the recent Lambeth conference of bishops from all parts of the world, the archbishop said here was "a great and growing change, which is almost a revolution, in the customs of married life throughout the world."

"This change is the main factor in causing a general decline of 50 per cent in the world's birth rate," he said. "To have evaded the subject at the conference would have been the policy of the ostrich."

The conference approved a modified practice of birth control at its sessions.

CONSUMPTION OF
HOME BREWED BEER
RAPIDLY INCREASING

Millwaukee, Wis., Nov. 13.—(U.P.)— Consumption of home brewed beer in the United States has increased 18 per cent during the last year on the basis of malt syrup sales, Fred Pabst, Sr., president of the Pabst corporation, former brewers, estimated today.

Each successive month of 1930 sales of malt syrup reached a new high figure, Pabst said. In October, sales increased 34 per cent over October, 1929,
he estimated.

Even larger gains have been made,
he said, in sales of near beer and ginger ale. He cited one brand of ginger ale which he said had increased in sales by 564 per cent over the corresponding period of last year.

CANAL ZONE
AIRPORTS TOO SMALL
FOR TOUR FLIERS

Balboa, Canal Zone, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)— Canal Zone airports are too small to enable a takeoff with sufficient fuel for 30 hours flight, Capt. Roy W.
Ammel said today, and he therefore plans to start a non-stop flight to Chicago from the Anton, Panama, airfield, about 80 miles southwest of Balboa.

Capt. Ammel made the first non-stop flight from New York to Panama in his airplane Blue Flash. He hopes to start for Chicago early Saturday, flying via Florida and Atlanta.

A broad, natural plain has been developed by the army at Anton as an emergency airport. It is long enough to allow the Blue Flash to develop the speed necessary to life a heavy fuel load.

BEER MANUFACTURE
IS LARGEST CRIMEMILLION PEOPLE IN NATION
CLAIMED CONNECTED WITH
BOOTLEGGING

By CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, JR.
(Copyright, 1930, by United Press)

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Wicksham law enforcement commission has been told that the number of Americans engaged in gang enterprises has multiplied by 10 in the last four years, and that illegal beer manufacture constitutes the nation's largest individual source of crime.

The group has been told, I learned today from an authoritative commission source, that there are as many as 1,000,000 persons connected with bootlegging and the myriad "rackets" which may or may not have sprung therefrom. There likewise has developed the significant opinion that drinking of the so-called "light" beverages has provided a greater problem in criminality than consumption of liquors with high alcoholic content.

My information, which I am assured comes from data of the commission, would tend to indicate that crime experts ascribe to the sale and effects of non-ripened, quickly-fermenting wines and beers most of the current overcrowding of prisons, gang madness and the participation of extreme youths in unlawful activities.

'Mickey' Meets Death
Under Wheels of Car;
Had Wide Acquaintance

"Mickey," French Bull, best known dog in this city and known to people throughout a large rural area, is no more.

The dog, a companion of Harry O.
Brien, 215 1/2 Sixth street, salesman, on his trips to customers of the district, met his death under the wheels of an automobile that made a sharp U turn at the corner of Sixth and Maple streets late yesterday afternoon.

The French Bull was six years old.
Wherever his master went there
"Mickey" was sure to be.
"More people said 'good morning'
and 'hello' to 'Mickey' than to a cop,"
one of the dog's friends expressed.

SIX RADIATOR CAPS
STOLEN FROM CARS

Police were confronted today with something new in the way of burglaries—that of the theft of radiator caps from automobiles.

During the night radiator caps from six cars, all of different makes, were taken from vehicles parked on Laurel street between Fifth and Sixth streets.
There is a ready market for radiator caps. We believe that the thefts were for that purpose and not the work of boys looking for mischief," Chief Thomas Templeton said.

ATTIC, ROOF FIRE
CAUSES $350 LOSS

Fire which broke out in the attic
and spread to the roof at 8:53 o'clock Wednesday evening caused $350 damage to the home of Charles Orabala, 1421 Norwood street. The damage is covered by insurance.
The probable cause was defective wiring, Frank W. Fuller, fire chief and inspector reported.

SOMETHING NEW
SHOWN IN PARIS

Paris, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—Something new in funerals was introduced when the remains of the singer Paul Napoléon Romain were lowered into the grave at Pere-Lachaise cemetery to the tune of his own once lusty voice.

His friends, wishing to hear him speak once more, conceived the idea of playing his records on a talking machine during the ceremony. The weirdness of the ceremony drew an added number of uninvited but interested spectators to the burial.

HOT DEBATE ON
DISARMAMENTM. M. LITVINOFF, SOVIET DELE-
GATE, AND LORD CECIL
LEAD DISCUSSIONCOUNT VON BERNSTORFF OF GER-MANY ALSO JOINS IN THE
ARGUMENTS

By SAMUEL DASHIELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Geneva, Nov. 13.—A story debate on the failure of nations to accept disarmament arose today at the sessions of the preparatory disarmament commission.

M. M. Litvinoff, vigorous Soviet delegate who has repeatedly pressed the necessity of immediate acceptance, and Lord Cecil of England led the discussion which aroused the chamber to a high pitch of excitement. Count Von Bernstorff of Germany, whose country was disarmed by the world war treaties, also engaged in the debate.

Lord Cecil described the present sessions of the commission as "a hopeless morass" from which could be heard the insistent staccato voice of the Soviet.

"What the world would like to know is why nations approve the principle of disarmament but cannot accept it," he said.

Four resolutions were presented for the third day of debate on whether the conference will adopt the principle of limitation of land armaments by reduction of budgets or by direct scrapping or by a combination of both methods.

Lord Cecil proposed a combination which would simply recognize both schools of opinion, leaving the final solution for the general disarmament conference.

Rene Massigli, the French delegate, supported the French and little entente policy, proposing a complicated resolution which would leave final solution with a committee of experts who would be obliged to report before the expected general conference in 1931.

Italy proposed that the nations adopt both methods, letting each country disarm by its own methods and then combining the two methods in a general agreement.

Litvinoff proposed the simultaneous application of the two systems.

The speeches of delegates to Turkey, Greece, Persia, Poland, Ireland, Czechoslovakia, France and China made it clear that a majority of the commission favor budgetary limitation, while the minority, including the United States, Holland, Germany, Italy and Russia, are vigorously determined to force direct limitation.

FOUND IN FIELD

Epsom, England, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—The body of a woman identified as Mrs.
Gladys Nicol, 36, a naturalized American of Manhattan Beach, Calif., was found in a field near here today with two revolvers nearby.

The body was identified by a brother-in-law, Mrs. Nicol had been in England for six months, for the benefit of her health.

CHINESE PIRATES
SEIZE NORWEGIAN
STEAMER HIRUNDO

Hong Kong, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—
Chinese pirates traveling as passengers on the Norwegian steamer Hirundo from Swatow to Bangkok seized the ship yesterday and took it to Mrs. Bay, where they went ashore with two Chinese pursers they held for ransom.

The pirates executed their plan in daylight. They ransacked cabins but did not molest Capt. J. A.
Pedersen, his wife, or any of the Norwegian officers.

The only casualty was the chief steward, a Chinese, who was wounded in an exchange of pistol fire. The Pirates forced the cook to prepare a banquet for them.

DENSELY POPULATED INDUS-TRIAL SECTION OF CITY IS AFFECTED BY DISASTER2ND AND 3RD SLIDES BURIED
AT THE SCENE

Lyons, France, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—The fear of a new landslide in the industrial section of Lyons, where about 70 persons were killed early today, caused officials to evacuate residents over a large area.

The families living in the Antiquaille quarter, which is on the opposite side of the hill where the first slides occurred, were evacuated. The slides were said officially to have been due to infiltration of water from the flooded River Saone.

Lyons, France, Nov. 13.—Three land-slides occurring in rapid succession, engulfed houses in an area of two city blocks in a densely populated industrial section of Lyons early today.
Authorities said at least 70 persons were killed.

The second and third slides buried alive rescuers who had rushed to the scene after the first crash, and prevented police and firemen from rescuing persons buried under the tons of earth.

The scene of the disaster was the industrial district of Fougere, in the old quarter of St. Jean. The slides were believed due to recent excavations.

Twelve firemen and four policemen who had rushed to the rescue after the first crash were caught by the second, which came 45 minutes later.

The third landslide occurred at 4:55
A. M., preventing rescuers from removing any more bodies, and entombing many persons still living, who were calling for aid from under the debris.

The third slide swept Fougere, killing the sick and flattening a pavilion in which many nurses were sleeping.

At 8 A. M. the chief of police at Lyons told the United Press by telephone that only two bodies had been recovered. Scores of injured were taken to the Cathedral of St. Jean, where doctors and nurses worked to save them.

Unofficial estimates of the dead reached as high as 100.

Entire families were wiped out in the first landslide, which occurred at 1:15 A. M. Houses collapsed as though they were cardboard, falling into the chasm opened in the earth.

Troops and Red Cross workers labored in the dark amid the screams and groans of the injured. A Red Cross ambulance carrying victims to the Cathedral of St. Jean was caught by the third landslide, which came unexpectedly, when the danger was believed past, and was buried under tons of rocks and earth.

At daylight, the scene of the disaster showed a yawning hole in the ground, 900 feet deep and 180 feet wide. It was filled with the wreckage of what had been five-story houses, shattered to pieces by the terrific force of the landslide.

Engineers in charge of the underground construction work which was believed to have led to the landslide had warned the officials yesterday that there was danger of a collapse
due to several days of constant rain recently.

Paris, Nov. 13.—The minister of interior, after receiving advices from Lyons, said today that the death toll in the landslides there probably would not exceed seventy.

The ministry said reports of 100
dead were believed to be exaggerated.
Premier Andre Tardieu, ignoring his long-standing political enmity with Mayor Edouard Herriot of Lyons, sent his personal condolences.

Our intensive study of markets leads us to believe that prices of fine clothing and accessories are now at the lowest. With many of the greatest textile manufacturers running on reduced schedule for reasons too many to enumerate here; with the quantity of merchandise which they can deliver quickly, extremely limited; and with the likelihood of little lessening of demand, there is only one direction in which prices can go if they leave present levels—upward. Therefore, when you buy at this tremendous reduction, you are actually taking a cash dividend from a situation for which there is hardly a precedent. This is your "anchor to windward."

$4,000 REWARD IS OFFERED FOR CAPTURE OF FOUR BANDITS

Prairie du Chien, Wis., Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—Offers of a $4,000 reward for capture of three men and one woman who shot and killed Patrick Gorman and his son, Paul, and wounded Stephen and Cornelius Horrigan intensified the hunt today for the quartet which local officers believe was an amateur bandit gang.

The Crawford county board of supervisors announced that each member of the gang apprehended was worth $1,000 to the captor.

Both brothers were reported in improved condition today at the Escanaba hospital. Cornelius, whose jaw was shattered by a bandit bullet, is expected to recover unless complications develop.

ture of three men and one woman who shot and killed Patrick Gorman and his son, Paul, and wounded Stephen and Cornelius Horrigan intensified the hunt today for the quartet which local officers believe was an amateur bandit gang.
The Crawford county board of su-

Dresses

Enormous plans were made for this Sale—Eastern markets and manufacturers who are overloaded made us some unbelievable sacrifices. We could not say no. Hundreds of coats and dresses were purchased with the idea of passing it on to our customers in the towns where our stores are located—St. Paul, St. Cloud, Brainerd and International Falls.

We bought merchandise as low as 50c on the dollar and we now own merchandise that will be sold lower than usual wholesale prices. "Manufacturers lost—we bought" in order to celebrate our Birthday anniversary in Brainerd.

PREFERS STUDENTS TO THOSE COUNTING VOTES

Minneapolis, Nov. 13.—(UP)—Representative Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, today told University of Minnesota students that the four qualities of a good citizen were dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

"I would rather have a group of high school students count election votes than those who count them now," Mrs. Owen said.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Economy Drug Co., Johnson's Pharmacy, advt.

CALL COMMISSIONERS BEFORE GRAND JURY

Alleged Misappropriation of Funds in School District No. 61 Also Considered

All members of the Crow Wing county board of commissioners were to appear before the grand jury in its investigation of road and bridge expenditures, the Dispatch learned today.

The appearance of the commissioners comes by request of the investigating body, it was further learned.

Another highlight of today's session, it was reported, will be the appearance of Walter M. Murphy, county highway engineer, who is reported to have expressed willingness to appear before the grand jury and tell his story.

In appearing, it was said, Murphy will waive all rights of immunity in explaining various phases of his work pertaining to the examination conducted by state public examiners and County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan.

Witnesses reported to have given testimony on the road and bridge investigation yesterday included: Louis E. Kusnerek, Ray Homer, Frank and William Carner, Wm. Harrison, Eph Harrison, Harry Peterson, K. G. Wigh, Jalmer and Axel Hanson, Verne Norquist, H. Tangen and Fritz Berg.

"Competition is the life of business. To win leadership a manufacturer must make his product more desirable than others. Hence there results a great benefit to the public through constant striving for improvement. The use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray in toasting the tobaccos used in LUCKY STRIKES is an example of such advancement."

Vincent Bendix

Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray. LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so TOASTING removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating!

"It's toasted"*Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

Consistent with its policy of laying the facts before the public, The American Tobacco Company has invited Mr. Vincent Bendix to review the reports of the distinguished men who have witnessed LUCKY STRIKE'S famous Toasting Process. The statement of Mr. Bendix appears on this page.

"JUDY" By Winifred Van Duzer

A WEEK aboard the S. S. Mohawk has changed Judith Archer from a serious-minded, unromantic school teacher into a carefree, pleasure-loving young woman. She receives the attentions of Kit Camp, the ship's radio operator, and Tris Millet, fascinating figure of mystery, while her mother is attracted by a Mr. Tennant. Shortly after reading of the robbery of the famous Ballard emeralds, Judy sees Tris talking with a scar-faced man, whom he previously denied knowing. Questioned regarding his work, Tris becomes vague. That night, while they are strolling on deck, a man attacks Tris. Tris tells Judy he was mistaken for someone else. Kit's expression when he sees Judy with Tris, makes Judy uncomfortable. Judy asks Tris about his life.

CHAPTER XXI.
"DISREGARD the past! Only today matters—and tomorrow. Got up in the middle of the night to tell you this, my sweet." His look turned quickly from her puzzled frown, the question in her eyes. "Well, then—well, then. Home—Chicago; family—yes and no. What newspapers call 'pillars of society' do you see? Honey—that sort of thing. Don't fancy a grasp sheep in their midst. Not black, Judy—only spotty gray. The prodigal son. But unrepentant. He was so gleeful about it that she had to laugh. "So the prodigal fares in far countries? Feeds on hush?" "Not as a rule." A snap to that; hardness beneath his easy race. "You've longed for adventure, too. Would you give it up because sometimes there's coffee and sinkers instead of caviar? Tang to the cup, sweet. Open road—freedom of the world. Rather than the safe and stodgy narrow way."

"Yes!" Her face was a white flame raised to his. He bent over, gave her a long, intent look. "Now I'll go, Judy. Wanted this—to speak to you." He caught her hands, put her palms together and pressed them in a lingering grip, left her without a smile, another word. She turned to watch him, though a-kindle to his vibrant lure. Someone was coming along the deck; someone stood beside her, waiting in a sure patience.

Judy knew it was Kit Camp—knew by the exasperation that tightened along her spine. Why did he always make her want to beat against him with her fists, to cry at him. "Oh, think you're the anointed—the sovereign male?" She would be swept by this fury and then her mood would soften with pleasure in his carefree poise, the grave honesty of his full lips, his green eyes.

She brought her gaze from the long, terrifying line of white on the horizon—surf beating at the shore of Anticosti Island which was drawing toward the West now—flicked it across his figure lounging against the rail. The expression he had worn last night was in his face; curiosity, speculation. Protest, too? Well—why?

He had seen her standing there with Tris. When Tris leaned down and brushed a kiss against her cheek—had he seen this also? Heat swept her; in a quick, embarrassed way she said: "You're late today, Kit? After what's been going on—all the excitement—well, I thought you'd be drifting into sweet repose. Or perhaps the insouciant Mr. Doyle traded shifts again so you could point out scenic glories to lady land-lubbers?"

The even whiteness of his teeth flashed. "The insouciant Mr. Doyle held wassail last night and overslept. What especially was going on? Seemed a tame enough night to your star reporter friend. We—editorially speaking—need news for the Radiogram this cloudy names, too! If you think it's funny—"

He, too, was sobered, his lips rather grim. "Not funny. Light-headed. Light-headed, maybe. Not funny, though. Maybe you'll change your mind? I'd like it, Judith."

"Oh? Well, you always make me angry. You have that way." "That's because you like me." He broke into a laugh, red with pleasure. "See you this afternoon at least? Good-bye—"

She ran along the passage, sat down at the table just as Cap'n Charley was pushing back his chair. The Mohawk had taken on the new pilot, he said. One of those who took ships in and out of the river. The channel was always shifting; one could make a whole career of it if he wished. They would pass Quebec late in the afternoon and tie up at Montreal in the morning.

Peggy and Mr. Tennant exchanged smiles, glanced inquiringly at Judy. "I'll be first ashore. Hope you won't mind my dashing off, mother dear? I sort of fixed up a date or two. Preparedness, you see, just in case." She would save them the trouble of thinking she might tag along on their Indian Summer affair.

"You're going to leave me, dear?" Peggy said this and blushed, keeping her eyes down. Judy wondered all at once what would happen to her if her mother should wish to marry this pinky-gray man. Go to Philadelphia to those—everything and nothing. And now if you can bear for me to tear myself away, there's the breakfast bugle." "Wait, Judy." He studied her, light shimmering in his eyes. He wished to say something; he was considering this, searching her. He started to speak, changed his mind, touched the end of his finger to the cleft in her chin. "Nothing. . . . Looking for a date, Montreal tomorrow? I'm a jolly good shower of sights in Montreal, fair fall."

"There are others, Mr. Kit Camp," she cried with a toss of her head. "Meaning Millet? I don't think so. Did he tell you he would go ashore? Ah, come, vixen—give us a date."

"I will not." She was angry now. "You can't tell me this and that! Say who'll go ashore and who won't. You stop calling me live; would they expect her to follow on their heels?"

She felt lonely and left out as she went hunting for Betsy Rowe's cabin. Betsy had telephoned that she was ill and wished to see Judy, everybody else being busy with affairs of their own.

Betsy lay in her berth and waved a limp hand at the chair, cluttered with dragged evening clothes. "Shove 'em on the floor, Ju. No—I'm not sensick—don't be silly. Just a head. And how!" "What do you want to do it for, Betsy? Might as well be home if you're going to drink yourself ill."

"Don't preach. That's not what I wanted to see you for. Listen: I'm engaged!" "Why—why, Betsy! You didn't say anything—is it someone I know? No announcement—"

"Oh, think you're the anointed—the sovereign male?"

She would be swept by this fury and then her mood would soften with pleasure in his carefree poise, the grave honesty of his full lips, his green eyes.

She brought her gaze from the long, terrifying line of white on the horizon—surf beating at the shore of Anticosti Island which was drawing toward the West now—flicked it across his big figure lounging against the rail. The expression he had worn last night was in his face; curiosity, speculation. Protest, too? Well—why?

He had seen her standing there with Tris. When Tris leaned down and brushed a kiss against her cheek—had he seen this also?

Heat swept her; in a quick, embarrassed way she said: "You're late today, Kit? After what's been going on—all the excitement—well, I thought you'd be drifting into sweet repose. Or perhaps the insouciant Mr. Doyle traded shifts again so you could point out scenic glories to lady land-lubbers?"

The even whiteness of his teeth flashed. "The insouciant Mr. Doyle held wassail last night and overslept. What especially was going on? Seemed a tame enough night to your star reporter friend. We—editorially speaking—need news for the Radiogram this cloudy

a. m. Front page stuff preferred, of course. Dish it, Judy, please." She was frightened. Supposing something made her tell of the sailor who fought with Tris? Of herself crouching in the shadow of the boat deck trying to scream.

Yet why shouldn't she tell? Why was she bound to shield the sailor whom she didn't know?

Why did Kit keep grinning at her in that assured way? Did he know what had happened and was he laughing at her?

"A tame night for Constant Readers also, St. Christopher." She spoke as evenly as she could and laughed to hide her hesitation.

"Song of the sad sea waves—'crack of deck and halyards high'—'what's a halyard, Kit? And what part of the Mohawk is before the mast?' I'm that eager to be educated, don't you see?"

"But I say, Judy, you mentioned excitement, y'know. Let's have it, what? Good girl, Judy." "You're extremely British at times, dear Kit. By excitement I meant this and that—these and those—everything and nothing. And now if you can bear for me to tear myself away, there's the breakfast bugle."

Why did he always make her want to beat against him with her fists?

"Wait, Judy." He studied her, light shimmering in his eyes. He wished to say something; he was considering this, searching her. He started to speak, changed his mind, touched the end of his finger to the cleft in her chin. "Nothing. . . . Looking for a date. Montreal tomorrow? I'm a jolly good shower of sights in Montreal, fair frail."

"There are others, Mr. Kit Camp," she cried with a toss of her head. "Meaning Millet? I don't think so. Did he tell you he would go ashore? Ah, come, vixen—give us a date."

"I will not." She was angry now. "You can't tell me this and that! Say who'll go ashore and who won't. You stop calling me names, too! If you think it's funny—"

He, too, was sobered, his lips rather grim. "Not funny. Light-headed. Light-headed, maybe. Not funny, though. Maybe you'll change your mind? I'd like it, Judith."

"Oh? Well, you always make me angry. You have that way." "That's because you like me." He broke into a laugh, red with pleasure. "See you this afternoon at least? Good-bye—"

She ran along the passage, sat down at the table just as Cap'n Charley was pushing back his chair. The Mohawk had taken on the new pilot, he said. One of those who took ships in and out of the river. The channel was always shifting; one could make a whole career of it if he wished. They would pass Quebec late in the afternoon and tie up at Montreal in the morning.

Peggy and Mr. Tennant exchanged smiles, glanced inquiringly at Judy. "I'll be first ashore. Hope you won't mind my dashing off, mother dear? I sort of fixed up a date or two. Preparedness, you see, just in case." She would save them the trouble of thinking she might tag along on their Indian Summer affair.

"You're going to leave me, dear?" Peggy said this and blushed, keeping her eyes down. Judy wondered all at once what would happen to her if her mother should wish to marry this pinky-gray man. Go to Philadelphia to

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

PROOF that Smart Furniture Need Not COST MUCH!

Ruth Brooks, style interpreter, submits a selection of exceptionally smart design that is charming in appearance and astonishingly moderate in cost. She says of this suite: "Exquisitely combined veneers of striped African walnut, curly maple and American Stump walnut complete an unusually attractive picture in beautiful woods. The Hollywood vanity in its frameless Venetian type mirror is the last word in good style."
